

Golden Boy

(Richard Lamplough)

*I saw a picture of a golden boy,
Hollywood eyes of sunshine.
Played to win and played his heart out,
Only fools to crush the dreams he had.
Living somewhere east of Eden (you take my heart...)
And I could say to him...*

*You only have to stay with me, my golden boy.
Everything will shine with me, my golden boy.*

*But when the dust had settled, it had gone through your skin.
And wiped away the light and joy...
For my golden boy.*

*The party's over... watching the plane touch down.
Found his way to pain and darkness,
Someone said it was the pace to be.
I couldn't say the way it moved me, but I can say to you...*

*You stumbled on a vision, you saw you weren't alone.
There is a road to light and joy... for my golden boy.*

*And we'll go on and on for all time...
So I'll just say to you...*

And now it's only moments, you'll learn to take the world.
